The Glebe House, built in 1746 and now owned by the Seabury Society, is open to the public. Here on March 25, 1783, ten of the fourteen Episcopal Clergymen in Connecticut met to choose their candidate to be head of an American episcopacy. They named Samuel Seabury who, failing to satisfy bishops in England, journeyed on to Scotland where he was cordially received and on November 14, 1784 was consecrated by three Scottish bishops. Thus he became the first bishop of the national church in the United States. Located on Hollow Road. Form 10-300a (July 1969)

	King Solomon's Lodge Number 7 . In 1765 certain Free Masons in the Woodbury area were granted a charter by the Provincial Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, then the only Grand Lodge in Colonial America and there were few local lodges outside of Boston. These Woodbury Masons were contemporary with Paul Revere who, at age 25, was accepted into Saint Andrew's Lodge in Boston, 1756. Then in 1791 the Woodbury Lodge received a charter from the Grand Lodge of Connecticut and became King Solomon's Lodge Number 7. The building on Signal Rock was built in 1839. Main Street.
X	St. Paul's Episcopal Church built 1785 by the Episcopal Parish of Woodbury, organized 1740. It has been suggested that St. Paul's steeple served as a model for the spires on churches built by David Hoadley between 1813 and 1830. Main Street.
×	First Congregational Church built 1817 by the First Ecclesiastical Society of the First Congregational Church organized 1670. This, the third building of the Ecclesiastical Society of Woodbury, al- though apparently planned by Harmon Stoddard resembles St. Paul's spire and has been considered a Hoadley type church. Main Street.
	North Congregational Church built in 1816 by the Strict Congre- gational Society organized 1816. The belfrey tower on this church is said to be the only example of Asher Benjamin/influence in Connecticut. The pilastered porch and spire reflect Hoadley in- fluence. Main Street.
	Methodist Episcopal Church organized 1792 and built 1839 represents the late Federal Period with a pleasing simplicity of time and proportion. Main Street.
	St. Teresa's Roman Catholic Church dominates the Center Green in S harmonious accord with the other churches yet it was not built until 1902 This accord we owe to Michael Skelly's insistence that this be so. He was the town's blacksmith but his influence as a townsman had been felt in many other ways for over half the a century. Main Street.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Woodbury Historic District is significant because its architecture and historic sites embody the history of the area since the seventeenth century. Nearly every type of house from the time of settlement to 1828 can be found in the area and it has some interesting Victorian houses as well. At present a considerable number of artists, authors, composers, photographers and skilled artisans with national reputations live in Woodbury and it is a community which provides a congenial atmosphere for people whose lives are devoted to the arts.

The town was founded in 1673 when fifteen families from Reverend Zechariah Walker's church in Stratford settled on land purchased from the Potatuck Indians. The homelots were laid out along a Main Street which almost followed the Indian Trail. In 1674 the General Court gave the name of Woodbury to the plantation at Pomperaug; in 1779 a part of Woodbury was set off to Washington, in 1787 another part to Southbury; in 1796 another to Roxbury and in 1807 a fourth part to Middlebury.

During the revolution Woodbury was a prosperous town, fourth largest on the State's grand list with a population in 1776 of 5, 325. According to Crofut about a half of Ethan Allen's men on the expedition to Ticonderoga came from Woodbury and some have believed that Woodbury contributed as many as 1,500 men and more than a half million dollars worth of supplies to the Continental Army.

INCORPORATED

WOODBURY, CONNECTICUT

May 9, 1974

Mr. William J. Murtagh Keeper of the National Register National Park Service Department of the Interior Washington, D.C. 20240

Dear Mr. Murtagh:

In 1973, The Old Woodbury Historical Society engaged Mr. Tony Wrenn of Alexandria, Virginia, to do a structure by structure study of all of the buildings in Woodbury's two historic districts, both of which are listed on the National Register of Historic Places. He surveyed about 100 buildings and studied their relationship to the whole streetscape.

In the process of his study, he called our attention to a row of seven contiguous Greek revival buildings (six houses and one store) which are part of the setting for one of Woodbury's pivotal buildings, St. Paul's Episcopal Church erected in 1785 and completely restored to its 18th century exterior facades. Mr. Wrenn advises us that this particular configuration is almost unique and is of museum quality.

The Woodbury Telephone Company whose office and plant lie behind this row have now purchased two of the Greek revival homes. It is our understanding that, in the fullness of time, it is their intention to demolish both buildings; one soon for a driveway and one later for expansion although it is our belief that the Company has expansion room (admittedly a little more difficult) to the rear of their present property. In the face of this threat, we have asked Mr. Wrenn to prepare a special analysis of this Greek revival row and it is enclosed.

The purpose of this letter, then, is to request that you write to The Woodbury Telephone Company, attention Mr. Earle W. Munson, President, Main Street, Woodbury, Conn., 06798 and, of course, say what you wish. Naturally, it is our hope that the Company might be persuaded to return these houses to the residential market or, failing that, to consider adaptive uses which would preserve, under restoration, the four facades intact.

Thank you in advance for your assistance.

yours, Alan K. Hagary President

Dr. William Murtaugh Keeper of the National Register of Historic Places National Park Service Department of Interior 18th and C Streets, NW Washington, DC 20000

Dear Dr. Murtaugh:

I recently had a very enjoyable conversation with your secretary regarding a project that our bank has recently undertaken in an effort to preserve an old stone home that was built in 1806. We are in the process of restoring the house into a branch banking office and hope to have it in full operation before the end of the year. We are very excited about this project and are looking for any ideas, suggestions, or information we can find that might aid us in our efforts.

We have had historical research done on the family who built the home and are in the process of doing research on the more recent owners and their families. We have also received approval from the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to be listed on the Pennsylvania Inventory of Historic Places as of April 29, 1974.

I am enclosing a copy of our 1973 annual report which I thought might be of interest. Again I might add any help or information you could furnish us regarding a project of this nature would be greatly appreciated. Thank you for your cooperation and courtesy.

Mr. Earle W. Munson President Woodbury Telephone Company Main Street Woodbury, Connecticut 06798

Dear Mr. Munson:

It has come to our sttention that the Woodbury Telephone Company has purchased two Greek Revival Houses within the Woodbury Historic District #1, listed on the National Register on March 1, 1974.

The National Register (leaflet enclosed) is the Nation's official list of properties worth preserving. Individual properties within a district are particularly important because they contribute to the ambience which makes the district significant. As you know, towas like Woodbury are beginning to lose the streetscapes and individual buildings which make these towas unique and which reflect the history and culture of the town.

I am sure you would agree that companies such as yours have a responsibility to protect and enhance the cultural resources of the Nation. We urge you to consider the integrity of the historic district, and the architectural importance of these two buildings, before taking any action which might endanger or denature the collective quality of the Woodbury environment.

Sincerely yours.

Mr. William J. Murtagh Keeper of the National Register United States Department of the Interior National Park Service Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Murtagh.

In regards to your letter of (no date given), subject matter two Greek Revival Houses which The Woodbury Telephone Company has purchased.

These houses are located in front of and between our commercial building and Main Street, Woodbury. One has been vacant for several years and is not in a very good state of repair. The second we purchased granting the right to the former owner of life residence, she to maintain the interior and the Company to maintain the grounds, painting roof, taxes, etc.

The purchase of both of these houses is incorporated into the long range program of this company. I feel certain that nothing need be done about the removal of either building for from 12 to 15 years.

Prior to the erection of both of these houses in the late 1800's there was a large home at their rear with a large expanse of lawn between the home and the Main Street with a circular drive leading to the home. Our present commercial building is located partially on and to the rear of this former home-site. Our eventual plans is to add a front to our present building to be used as a general office building (our own purposes only), restore the large lawn with appropriate planting, etc. Any building that we would build facing Main Street would be in keeping with the general architecture of the The Woodbury Telephone Company community and Historic District # 1 in the Town.

Growth in Woodbury and the surrounding communities which we as a telephone company serve has been very rapid in the past few years requiring large additions to telephone plant both building wise and internal switching equipment. It was suggested by our Historic Commission that we move. This is an impossibility financially, several million dollars are tied up in building and equipment on our present location. To move would mean a complete new facility in some other location completed and ready for cut over to service while our present facility would still be in operation and after a cut over our present facility would be valueless. Stockholders, Bondholders, etc. would take a considerable loss, this was explained to the Historic Commission and they did agree that it was an impossibility.

When and if the time comes that the buildings must be removed The Woodbury ^Telephone Company will do anything within reason to preserve the the historic atmosphere of Main Street, Woodbury. All our officers and most of our employees reside in Woodbury and love the old Town and any future move of the company will I am sure not be a detrement to Woodbury,

Sincerely yours.

Dear Doctor Murtagh:

With the help of the Preservation Press, a new division of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, The Old Woodbury Historical Society has published WOODBURY-A NEW ENGLAND TOWNSCAPE. Designed as an educational venture, the Society sent a copy free to each household in Woodbury. The remaining inventory is being sold at $4.00 a copy plus postage (if mailed) of 50¢ (the National Trust is selling their inventory of the book at $3.00 plus postage).

Two copies of the study are enclosed with this letter. Since both of Woodbury's historic districts are listed on the National Register and since this study by Tony Wrenn is the most up-to-date documentation on the districts, it would seem appropriate that each file in your office should contain a copy --- that is, one for District No.1 and one for District No.2. Hence the duplication.

Tony Wrenn is in the process of completing the survey sheets on all structures in both districts and when these are completed, I shall see that copies are sent to you for your files.

Hope to see you in Boston this fall or elsewhere sooner.

Mr. Harlan H. Griswold Chairman, Connecticut Historical Commission Woodbury, Connecticut 06798

Dear Mr. Griswold:

Thank you for sending us copies of the study, WoodhuryA New England Townscape. We will certainly include the studies in the National Register files on the Woodbury historic districts.

The study is a very good one. Most preservation studies are done for planning agencies and historical commissions. Few attempt, as this one does, to communicate preservation directly to the residents of a town. Because it has this focus, this study should be instrumental in encouraging effective local preservation.

It is apparent that the author cares that the reader share his own appreciation of the town and understand what needs to be done to preserve it. Both the language and photography convey this impression. The language is clear and instructive without being didactic. As other studies have done, this one identifies clearly the elements which give the town its unique form and character and targets specific preservation problems. Suggestions for further preservation activity are indicated but suggested in such a way as to stimulate individual action rather than dictate a master preservation plan. This is good, as is the use of selected photographs to stimulate keener visual sensitivity to building details, to varied building styles, and to the relation of buildings to land.

A final significant aspect of the study's emphasis on the importance of experiencing Woodbury is the decision not to evaluate buildings numerically. We have discussed various numerical rating systems here and have concluded that such systems tend to predetormine the fate of a building and sometimes obviate careful review if the building is threatened.

Thank you again for sending us the copies of the Noodbury study. The study has been very useful to members of the Register's professional staff who are proparing guidelines for local surveys.

Sincerely yours,

Ronald M. Greenberg:
